

The Source for Facilities Decision-Makers

BUILDINGS

June, 2007

2007 Editors Choice Top Products

One of our most popular exclusives – the annual “Editors’ Choice: Top Product Picks” – offers 100 solutions to ensure that your facilities and your staff are working at their peak.

COMMUNICATIONS - The Wall Street Journal (WSJ) Office Network, developed by Office Media Network (OMN), uses high-definition, large-format LCD flat-screen panels in the public areas of office properties to deliver up-to-the-minute news from the four main sections of the WSJ. In addition, building owners and managers can create, upload, and manage building and safety messages to their screens using an easy-to-use, custom-built, Web-based portal, giving them the ability to communicate with their tenants in almost real time. The Wall Street Journal Office Network by Office Media Network (312-235-4800 or www.officemedia.com).

"With the emergency override feature, property owners can instantly post emergency messages, warnings, and instructions during a life-threatening situation."